I have been writing since High School -- Short Stories, Mini Novels, and anything else my mind could conjure up!

But for one reason or another, I never seemed to push to get them published so everyone could read them. One day, I met a friend, editor, and fellow author who basically pushed me and asked why I didn't have any of my manuscripts in print! She called me out! She was right. It was time for the world to meet Papa and read his work! So, in early 2010, I began to seriously put my work into proper manuscripts and work on getting them out to the masses! In January 2014, I released my very first book, "Letters From Audrey" and I have no intention of stopping or slowing down! For me, this is only the beginning! ~ Papa
