Celebration a Success.

The celebration of the Boosters in this vicinity was a success in every way. The crowd would have been larger had it not been for the rain, but there was a good crowd as it was, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves.

The eats was one of the main features of the day, and everybody made chage after charge on the long table filled with eats, and it held its own until everyone had their fill.

The sports consisted of races for children, 10 to 14; race for small children; race for women race for men; tug of war and a ball game, with a dance in the evening to help make out a very enjoyable day.

Pearson-Ring

Carl Pearson and Miss Lily E. Ring were married in Lusk, Monday June the 30th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Shoemaker in the Congregational parsonage at 3:30. P.M. W.H. Smyth acted as best man and Edith Ring as bridesmaid. They made a short trip to Douglas and other points in the state, and returned the last of the week to their home in this vicinity.

Both are well and favorably known in this vicinity and will continue to reside here. We wish them a long happy and prosperous life.

Sound Advice

In a survey of the commercial outlook in the United States, the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey takes an optimistic view. The Lamp, the magazine published by that corporation says:

“So far from danger of a prolonged period of non employment, it appears that every worker will be needed to repair the wastage in industrial machinery, to overtake the (construction) [sic] program neglected during the war, to help makeup the shortage of food stuffs and almost every other necessity of life, which exists in this country, only in somewhat less degree than in the rest of the world.”

Belated action due to lukewarm faith in the commercial future is dangerous because it means delay in replenishing the depleted stocks of commodities.”

“After four years of intense industrial activity and production the country found itself on the declaration of peace living from hand to mouth.”

“This company did not share anxiety as to the commercial future as the war drew to a close nor does it now fear anything more serious than the confusion incidental to switching the industrial engine back to peace tracks.”

And Standard Oil backs its judgement when increased construction program in different parts of the country.”

Now is the time to go ahead with all kinds of delayed building and development activity and it will be but a short time until the mines mills and factories will be running full blast.

Few people have any idea what an incentive it is to both teachers and scholars to know that parents and outsiders are taking a lively interest in their work. We believe that the little folks at school appreciate such interests more perhaps than the larger ones. Still the effect is not lost on any of them and we hope every parent will take a hint from this and place the public school on their visiting list.

The Warren Booster

Entered as second-class matter June 13, 1918, at the post office at Warren, Wyoming, under the act of March 3, 1879.

One dollar per year. An Independent Newspaper.

Hans Meng is driving a Studabaker these days.

Everett Doolittle is visiting his mother and sister at his uncles the Meng ranch.

Hans Meng and family returned Tuesday from a visit at his parents home, and a trip to the reservation in southwest S.D., taking in the 4th festivities while away.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pfister and children, called at Howards Sunday evening. They also paid a call to Mrs. Doolittle the same evening.

Mrs. Ella Pfister has been a quest [sic] at her brother Edwin's since the fourth.

Miss E. O. Howard called on Mrs. Doolittle and Irene Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Burch of Casper is visiting his little daughter Lucille, who is spending the summer with Mrs. Pfister.

J.M. and Misses Howard took dinner Monday at Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pfister's, and were treated to a liberal supply of ice cream.

J.W. Newell of the Wyo. State Bank has renewed his subscription to the Booster for a year. We have several Boosters in Lusk, not the least of which is John.

"Lusk must save water," says a head line in the Herald, and Wyoming has not been dry a week.

Gerald Peterson swallowed a pin on July 4th, and seemed to suffer considerable at times, is reported much improved at this time.

The weather man seemed to protest Wyoming going dry, and stockmen and dry farmers are not kicking a bit.

Shortly after he had drunk a bottle of "near-beer" one Warren man said that the fellow who named it near-beer was a darn poor judge of distances.

The Kaiser is quoted as saying that he did not want this war. That's right - the kind he wanted is one that Germany could win.

We've often thought what a pity it is that a Warren man can't dispose of his experience for what it cost him.

One of the boys while calling on his best girl last Sunday, called her 'hun,' and now he is hunting a new one.

Among other things that people never never give an editor credit for is spending his time in prayer. And yet every hot day we spend several hours praying that the rollers on the press won't melt.

Deer Timoty: - Yu did't rite for so long that I thought yu mite be ded. Er married so many are getting married, and some want to get married that don't. I cum awful near getting married myself, fer I asked wun ov them grass widders at Edgemont if she wanted to take me fer beter er fer wurse; & the sed NO!!! Wuzen't that close Timothy.

You had ought to have been to the picnic and seen me eat, it sure wuz a sight. Everybody had a gud time and got full ov chicken, pie, cake an ice cream. Iry Thomas wuz busy most ov the da, pullin jitneys across the creek, an being handy in general, but he took time enuff to eat.

I no that Khris Ruffinff er Iry Thomas er Oskar Jones didn't get thare wimin by runin after them, cause tha wuz all in the foot race and kin run like skeered wolves.

I heard they purty near had a hospital over tu the post awfns, cause tha wuz all trying not to be sick.

Dick Fister wuz branding colts last week, & wun got lose and kicked him on the northwest quarter of section 3.

Pete Shrove had a nite horse and I herd it wuz branded OM I'll bet that stands fer oil maggit, or old made.

Everybody is busy tending to thare own bisness, er tryin to be oil maggits, so thare aint much nuse to rite. Jerusha

A Wolf Howl

With apologies to J. W. McKenzie

Old "Hardpan Dick," from the head of the creek
With hair on his chest--that's me.
I've pawed the earth since the day of my birth,
With a spirit wild and free.
I've seen the west at its worst and best,
I've rolled 'em wide and high,
But I loose my sand and lay my hand,
When old Wyoming's dry.

What would they do--that roaring crew
Them wolves what I used to know
If they'd hear the news that we cant
have booze,
In this land where the jag-vines grow,
I reckon they'd shoot and dam galoot,
Who threatened to stop their rye--
But they wont be here my soul to cheer,
When old Wooming's dry.

Old Bob McGill, "Cheyenne Bill" Jim
Peets and ol Hardtack Brown
We was sure some crowd--if you speak it loud,
When we hit the trail for town.
It was fun or bust while we spent our dust,
With the limit the star speckled sky--
There'll be no place like we had them days, When old Wyoming's dry.

They're the other side of the Great
Divide,
My pals of the days of yore,
And I am left forlorn to weep and mourn

With a heart that's sad and sore;
I'm old an broke, my gun's in soak
So what can I do but cry?
And sit and think what can I drink
When old Wyoming's dry

Dig me a grave where th' willers wave,
At the rim of the lonesome swamp
Where the lizards creep and the tree
toads cheep
An' the tuneful bullfrogs romp
Throw me an my jug that I used to lug
In the hole and say "good by,"
It's no place here for a pioneer,
When old Wyoming's Dry.
